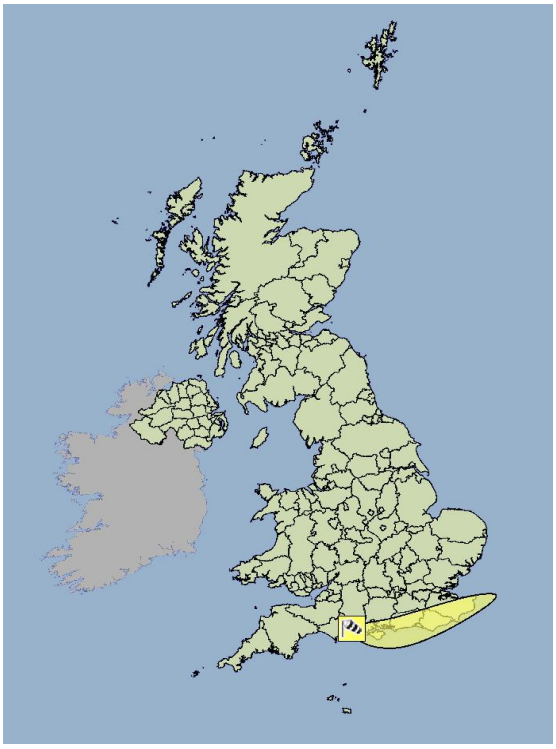
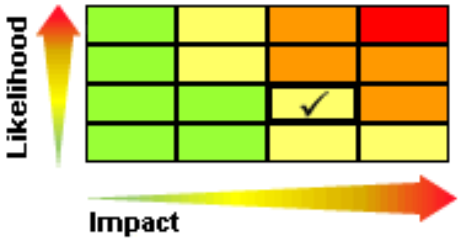
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A deep low coming northeast across England will carry a swathe of strong winds from the English Channel inland. Even at this range there is uncertainty about the depth and track of the low, and therefore the strength of the winds.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Wind

Valid from 01:00 on Tue, 22nd Nov 2016 until 09:00 on Tue, 22nd Nov 2016

Southwesterly winds will increase on Monday night and into Tuesday morning, bringing gusts of 50 to 60 mph on coasts, with a low risk of 70-80 mph. Inland, gust speeds are likely to be 10 mph or so lower.

Please be aware of the risk of damage to trees and disruption to transport, and of large waves coming onto sea fronts.
